

Strong Winds Tuesday P.M.

Forecast Timing of Hazards

Times are estimates

Weather Message of the Day:

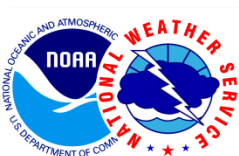

- Strong and possibly locally damaging winds likely late Tuesday afternoon into the evening; gusty winds again later Wednesday
- Small risk of brief tornadoes & locally damaging winds with storms Tuesday afternoon & evening
- Torrential downpours with a limited flash flood risk Tuesday afternoon & evening

Important Forecast Changes

Storm track may be shifting slightly east, with slightly higher rain amounts possible across north central IL as compared to previous forecast.

Strong Wind Threat

STRONG WINDS WITH CRISTOBAL'S REMNANTS

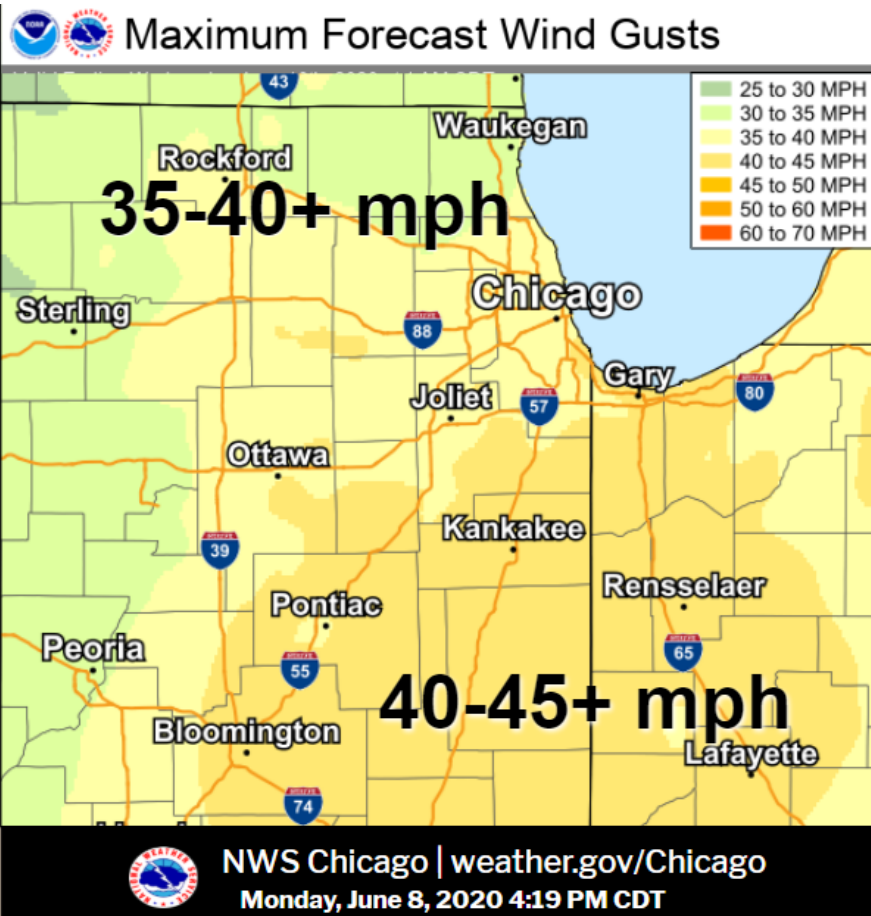

Timeline of Strongest Winds

3 PM-12 AM CDT Tuesday

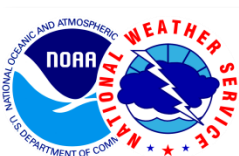

- Gusts up to 40-45 mph
 - Medium-high confidence
- Threat for gusts up to 50+ mph, including in heavier showers.
- Direction (from): Southeast shifting to south

Hazards

- Loose objects and tents may be blown around
- Tree damage and power outages possible
- Difficult to hazardous travel for high profile vehicles

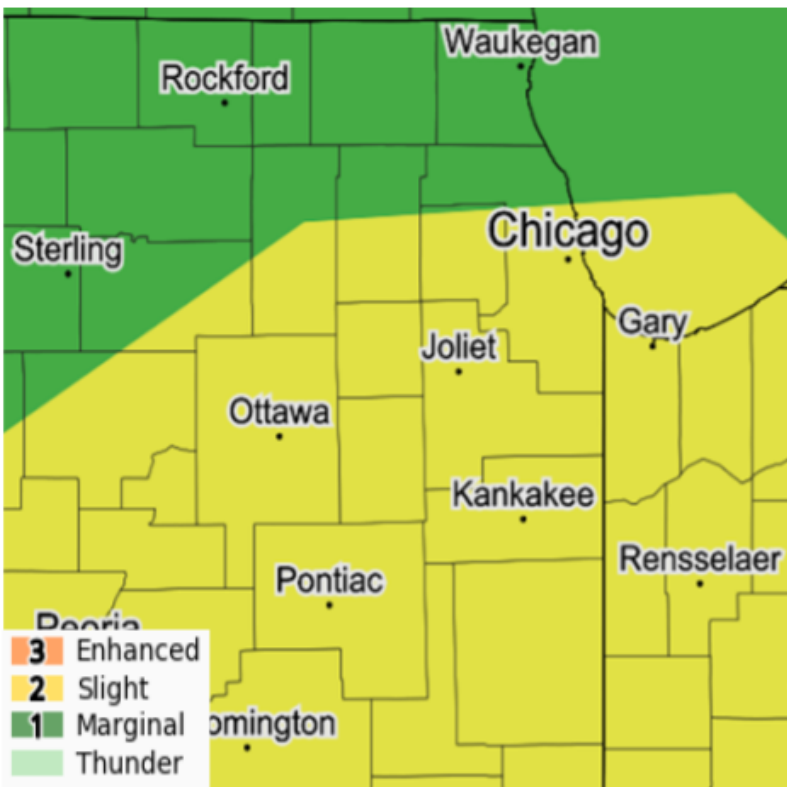

Certainty & Considerations: Two periods of strong winds with the first on Tuesday likely being the more pronounced one.

Severe Threat

Isolated Severe Weather Possible Tuesday

Monday, June 8, 2020 2:53 PM CDT

Hazards: Likelihood/Risk Level

Lightning: Occasional

Damaging Winds: 60+ mph

Tornado: Limited risk of brief tornadoes

WHEN

Tuesday afternoon / evening, from 4-10 P.M.

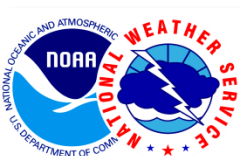

ACTION

Monitor the weather and have a plan of action if severe weather occurs.

NWS Chicago | weather.gov/Chicago

Certainty & Considerations: Showers and storms will be moving near due north, even possibly northwest at times Tuesday. Some stronger to severe storms, if they develop, may not have any lightning at all. While some are likely to rotate and be gusty, it is still lower confidence that true severe thunderstorms will materialize Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Heavy Rainfall Threat

Heavy Rain Potential Tuesday PM

HIGHLIGHTS

Fast moving showers and isolated t-storms likely Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Heavier showers & storms will produce brief, but torrential, downpours (rainfall rates similar to May 17th)

Widespread flooding not expected, but pockets of road ponding and localized flooding possible.

WHERE

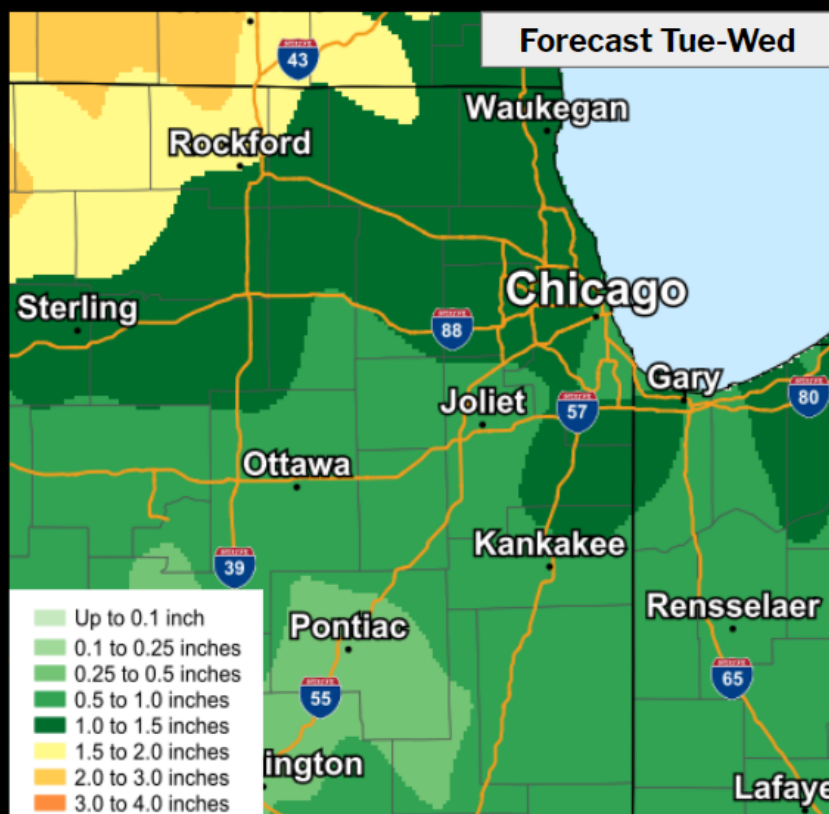

Mainly north of I-88 in northern Illinois, with highest threat for localized flooding in the dark green and especially yellow shaded areas on map.

WHEN

Tuesday afternoon and evening.

Monitor the latest forecasts for updates.

Monday, June 8, 2020 3:09 PM CDT

Certainty & Considerations: High confidence in torrential rain producing showers and storms. Medium confidence duration will be brief enough to keep flash flood threat on lower end of spectrum.

Moderate to High Swim Risk Tuesday

DANGEROUS SWIMMING Conditions Tuesday Stay out of the Water!

WHAT
High waves of 4 to 8 feet and life threatening currents.

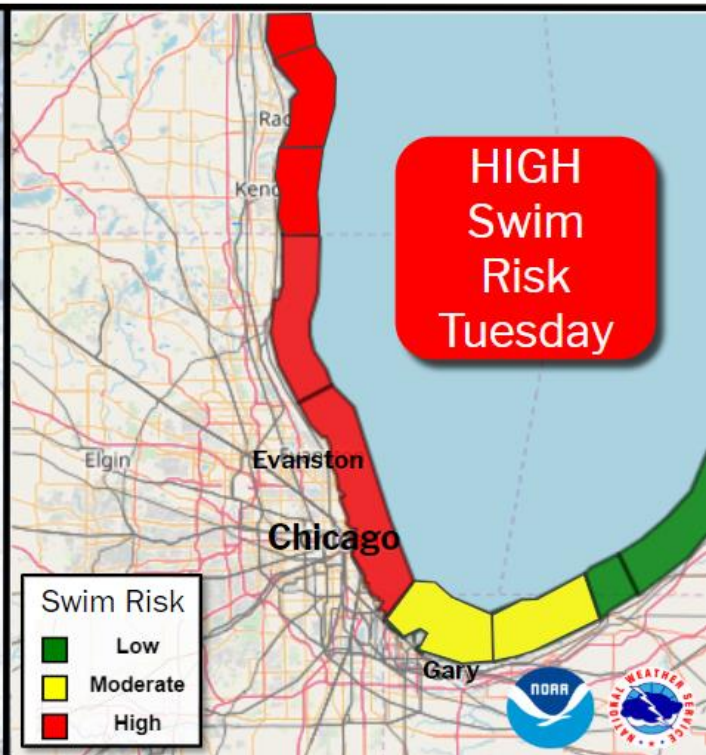

WHERE
High Risk: Illinois beaches
Moderate Risk: Northwest Indiana beaches

WHEN
Tuesday afternoon through Tuesday night

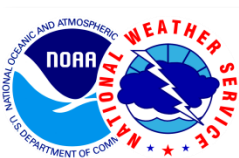

ACTIONS
